U.S. TREK FEATURING FULL BACKING CHOIR SET TO LAUNCH THURSDAY EUROPEAN TOUR CONFIRMED TO VISIT SIX COUNTRIES SPRING 2012

Hailing from Jacksonville, FL, indie pop-folk artist RADICAL FACE--aka BEN COOPER--returns with his sophomore album THE FAMILY TREE: THE ROOTS, out today (October 4) on Bear Machine. Hauntingly beautiful, RADICAL FACE's new album glimmers with folk, pop and BEN's wide-open vocals.

RADICAL FACE's new song "Ghost Towns" is the iTunes Indie Spotlight feature all week long. Download the full song for free, here:

http://itunes.apple.com/us/album/ghost-towns-indie-spotlight/id469588417.THE FAMILY TREE: THE ROOTS is now on iTunes home page twice and is currently #96 in the overall iTunes charts, #3 on Amazon MP3 Folk chart and #30 on the pop charts.

RADICAL FACE--who has generally shied away from traditional live performances--will give U.S. fans a rare concert experience with a unique live show encompassing a full backing choir accompanying him on his fall trek, which launches this week. Tomorrow, (Wednesday, October 5) RADICAL FACE will perform live in-studio at KALX, 3:00 PM PST (Univ. of California-Berkeley) to preview his Thursday, October 6 show in San Francisco at Brick and Mortar with the Albatross Choir. On Monday, October 10 he'll make a special appearance for an in-store performance and signing at Origami Vinyl at 7:00pm (1816 West Sunset Blvd., Los Angeles, CA), a live appearance on Moheak Radio at 4:00pm (Moheak.com) and an interview on Bronson Island radio (BronsonIsland.com) at 9pm. On Tuesday, October 11, RADICAL FACE will tape an appearance for NBC TV's "Last Call With Carson Daly" at his Los Angeles show at the Bootleg Theater with the Easterly Singers Choir. Later in the week on Friday, October 14, RADICAL FACE will perform and be interviewed live on Los Angeles tastemaker station KXLU (Loyola Marymount University). To listen live, CLICK HERE. Next spring, RADICAL FACE will head overseas for his first European trek visiting six countries.
